

Family Movie Night Interactive:

What is an Interactive movie?

An interactive movie takes a well-worn classic and makes it a fun experience for the whole family. Utilizing a script of well-known lines and plot points along with some simple props, you can bring the movie to life in your own space.

Make your Props:

- Print Scripts (attached)
- Olaf "head" (Blow up and tie the white balloon. Using glue dots or tape, attach elements of Olaf's face—attached—to the balloon.)
- Snow Wands (make one per participant--cut a snowflake from paper and glue it to a craft stick. Decorate with sequins and glitter)
- "Snowballs" (make one per participant--Loosely ball a double sheet of newspaper or other scrap paper)
- Hot chocolate, popcorn, small chocolate candies, any other movie snacks

Directions:

Prep your props. Give each participant a snow wand and a snowball, and decide who will be in charge of keeping up with the "Olaf Head" for your group. Decide who will call out actions from the script as the movie progresses. Then, grab your snacks, get comfy, and let the fun begin!

Where to Watch:

- Available to checkout / place on hold with your library card: <https://www.vbgov.com/libraries>
- Included in the following streaming services (as of 11/2020): Disney+, Starz
- Rent from your favorite online or local video service (e.g. Prime, Redbox)

Here are some ways to make movie watching an active rather than a passive experience:

- Make some snacks—Warm up with some hot chocolate, or a chocolate piece each for the party scene. How about some baby carrots so you can snack with Sven? Marshmallows and pretzel sticks are great for building a snowman!
- Turn on the subtitles—it helps everyone to be able to sing along AND engages them to see, hear, and experience the story at the same time!
- Make space for movement—clear the area so that everyone feels free to act along or just shake their sillies out.
- Share photos of your interactive movie fun with us on Twitter @VBPLibrary , Facebook @VaBeachPublicLibrary or Instagram @vbplibrary
